

Immediate Feedback on Project Presentation

Company name:

Alpha 2

Content: 75

Market research and business strategy were not as well considered as the rest of the project here.

Another big thing missing is that a user does not get anything back from using your website. At the moment it is just a data collector where you are kindly asking users to give you information. My suggestion to have a random match play using a simple random number generator so that the player is in effect 'betting' on a match (as well as providing you data) is one way of doing this.

Code: 100

Excellent piece of coding work.

Great job learning not only Django but also making your project open source and learning git + github.

Delivery: 73

Not a seamless presentation with some questions being left unanswered (mainly coding based questions). You could have prepared better for this.

Visual Aids: 80

Good use of visual aids.

Creativity: 100

Very creative: well done!

General comments

Excellent piece of code. Well done!

I hope it doesn't die and you keep working on the various pieces that could make this a fun website to use.

Overall Mark: 86/100
