

Week 10 - LaTeX

Mathematicians, Computer Scientists, Physicists and others all need to present their research and this is usually through the written medium. Common word processors can be used for this but most prefer to use the typesetting language LaTeX (pronounced Lay-tech).

A typesetting language is a language that requires the user to write code that is then ‘translated’ to a form that is nice to read:

pics (LaTeX but also HTML)

In this week:...

1. Opening up TeXworks
Discuss writelatex.
2. Basic document 3.